On Friday evening, October 23, there was a gathering of unusual interest at the Evergreen Baptist Church, the occasion being a sponsorious gathering of the members of the group of Hollywood, Rocks, Central and Evergreen churches to hear the pastor, Rev. Carl A Collins Jr. who was leaving, after preaching at Hollywood church Sunday evening, October 25, for immediate induction into the Army. His immediate destination is Harvard University, for a short course of training before being assigned as Chaplain in the Army. The auditorium was well filled with representatives of the various denominations, all anxious to honor their departing pastor or friend. There three visiting pastors present: Rev. W. J. Marsh, of the Methodist church, Rev. W. M. Black, of Elon Baptist Church and Rev. C. A. Harris, of Cullen, representing the Appomattox Baptist Association. Also, Rev. G. A. Chocklett, a member of the host church. This gathering was unique in that every spoken word was an appreciation of the young pastor, who, by the way, is the 16th member of the Evergreen Baptist Church to enter the Army, Navy or Air Force. After all had had an opportunity to speak there was a social period, when refreshments were served the entire audience. At this time Miss Minnie Chocklett entertained the assembled audience by reading selected poems and a few humorous remarks that left everyone smiling. Rev. Collins received at this time, as a gift from his churches a valuable leather bag, or brief case. Mrs. Collins also received presents.

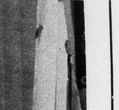
THE OLD BIG STRONG BANK



From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

THAD PHIBBS' home got struck by lightnin' a couple of nights ago. The kitchen chimney was knocked off and the roof set on fire, and Thad found things pretty lively and exciting for a spell.

The fire was soon out though, thanks to the prompt and efficient work of the local fire department, as the paper says . . . and I never seen a man so grateful as Thad.

Chief Ed Carey was sort of embarrassed, I guess, by the thanks that was bein' heaped on him.

"That's all right, Mr. Phibbs," he says. "That's all right, sir—that's what you pay taxes for."

From where I sit, I'd say Chief Ed's remark seems to have a lesson in it . . . a lesson on the way that taxes come back in mighty real benefits to the people.

Take the taxes on beer, f'rinstance—more than 2½ billion dollars, I hear, figurin' federal, state and local, in the nine years since beer's been back.

There was a time—remember—when a lot of that money went into the pockets of bootleggers and blind pigs. But today it's coming right back to the treasuries of the nation, the states and the local communities . . . for the benefit of everybody.

Some goes, for example, to pay for the things Uncle Sam needs to fight the war with . . . for tanks and ships and bombers.

Quite a lot goes for things like public health, and education, and good roads and the like.

And some of it, I surmise, has gone to support the fire company that gave Thad such good service the other night.

To moderate folks, who like a friendly glass of beer now and then, there's a sort of satisfaction in knowing that right now this beverage of moderation is furnishin' the public treasuries well over a million dollars every single day.

That's quite a lot of money—especially nowadays when Uncle Sam needs every cent he can get hold of.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

CHRISTIAN NURTURE IN THE FAMILY

LESSON TEXT—Deuteronomy 6:4-9, 20-25; II Timothy 3:14, 15.
GOLDEN TEXT—Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it.—Proverbs 22:6.

The religious life of the home is a determining factor in the life of the child, for it is in the home that the child's whole existence centers and from which he receives the repeated impressions, day by day, which determine character and destiny. Then too, it is in the home that the parent has the opportunity to demonstrate the reality of the faith professed in the church and to show that the Christianity counts in the ordinary experiences of life.

I. By Recognizing God's Word (Deut. 6:4-9).

Twice a day the orthodox Jew repeated the words of verses 4 and 5, "Hear, Shema," in his time of prayer, morning and night. It was the foundation of his faith, declaring the oneness of God in a world of many heathen gods, and calling for complete and absolute devotion to Him.

But it was not enough that these words should be repeated in the service, they were to be taught with all diligence to the children and to be a normal and natural part of their daily conversation.

Here is a matter of great significance to us. The faith which we profess in the church must be effectively brought into the home. It is not enough to carry a Bible on Sunday, it should be in use in the home throughout the week; not only in family worship, but in the incidentals of daily life.

The family altar has gradually disappeared, and it is regrettable that it has, for the testimony of generations indicates that in family worship some of the most useful men and women of all ages have received the direction of life which made them great for God.

Let us not readily assume that it is not possible for us to have a family altar simply because of the difficulties of time, place, etc. But if we cannot have such worship regularly, let us show our children that we have a real interest by reading our Bibles, by sharing some blessing found therein with them, and by making prayer a natural thing in the home at all times, not just in hours of trial or adversity. Let us recognize God's Word in our family life.

II. By Remembering God's Blessing (Deut. 6:20-25).

The nation that forgets its past will have no future worth remembering. The Israelites were to recall that the glorious history of God's loving kindness toward them bore testimony to the truth of His Word and to the faithfulness with which He had kept them. Their young people would thus be encouraged to trust God for the future. "Hitherto the Lord hath helped," means that henceforth we may count on Him.

In every nation there are those occasions of history where only God could deliver—and He did. The recollection of such events in a way which will give the glory to God rather than to man will strengthen faith and cause men to look to God in the hour of need, and to thank Him in the day of victory.

In the family too, we should cultivate the sacred memories of God's deliverance, of His blessing, of the joy of His fellowship in both as well as threatening moments. Children who hear such matters gratefully rehearsed in the home have an effective anchor in a time of storm.

III. By Continuing in God's Grace (II Tim. 3:14, 15).

That which we learn of Christ and of God's Word is to be translated into living for Christ. The experiences of grace and the remembrance of God's blessing of childhood are not for that period of life alone but for a continuing in God's grace. This carries our thought a bit beyond the responsibility of the parent to provide the proper surroundings and training, and stresses the duty of the child to apply, perfect, and continue that experience of Christian truth and testimony.

Too many careless individuals, who because of the desires of their own wicked hearts have abandoned the church and the Book, blame it on the parents. "They were too strict. We had to go to church too much. They made me go to Sunday school"—such are their excuses. Of course, we know that they are only excuses, not reasons. They are the refuge of the hypocrite who is not willing to face his own terrible responsibility.

The obligation is on each one of us to continue in the things we have learned, and if we do not, the judgment must come upon us. If we do, salvation and blessing will come to us, and we in turn will pass it on to others.

May this lesson turn many an American home back to God's way.

and meeting its quota is an American habit!

To help win this War, to help provide the fighting equipment and the fighting men America needs, every American has a job to do.

That job includes saving at least 10% of his income in War Bonds. Your quota, too, is 10%—10¢ out of every dollar you make, 10¢ out of every dollar's worth of produce you grow and sell.

Start saving in War Bonds today. Get them regularly, not the least you can but the most you can, remembering that they're the finest, safest investment in the world, guaranteed both as to principal and interest by the United States Government.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

A Flying Fortress is to America's air fleet what heavy artillery is to the Army. This gigantic four-motored bomber, equipped with heavy cannon, carries about three tons of bombs and reaches a speed of about 300 miles an hour.

These ships carry a crew of seven to nine men, weigh about 22½ tons, have a wing spread of 103 feet and each motor develops 1,000 horsepower. We need more of these "Flying Fortresses" to compete with the Nazi air force. You can help by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Buy them from your bank, postoffice or other convenient issuing agent.

Notice to Automobile Owners

You have been reading in the State newspapers regarding reductions in rates on personal liability automobile insurance premiums of 20% for holders of "A cards and 10% for holders of "B" and "C" cards. The press reports led us all to believe that these reductions had been approved by the State Corporation Commission for Virginia and would go into effect at once. This, however, was not correct.

We wish to state to our present and future policy-holders that just as soon as these reductions in rates are approved by the State Corporation Commission everyone of our customers who comes under these classifications, will be given full advantage of these reductions.

We sincerely hope and believe that the State Corporation Commission, when it meets on November 24 to consider this matter, will grant Virginia automobile policy-holders this reduction which we think they deserve. Until the Commission does act, however, agents in Virginia are not permitted to grant these reductions.
